New Rules Hold Jerusalem Tense; Tents Are Erected

Barbed Wire Enclosures Are Being Erected Near Government Buildings

Jerusalem, Aug. 10 (AP)—Jerusalem has become a tense and nervous fortress city with the imposition of new security measures today.

British troops and Palestine police made a house-to-house search of a small Jewish community in the southwestern suburbs today, during which five Jews were reported arrested. Police said no arms were found.

A requisitioned hotel housing the government's public works and office and other departments was evacuated when a telephone call warned of an impending explosion.

Nothing happened and jittery government workers returned. A similar incident occurred at the British Overseas Airways office.

New barbed wire barricades were erected across fields and olive groves in the vicinity of government buildings and hundreds of yards of barbed wire are now being installed along sidewalks leading to government offices.

Tents are Erected
Nicosia, Cyprus, Aug. 10 (AP)—British soldiers erected tents today to augment 20 stone huts within a detention camp near ancient Famagusta—apparently to house Jews caught trying to enter Palestine illegally.

The soldiers worked in sweltering heat within the mile-square enclosure, ringed by a fence of double barbed wire. The tents, expected to total 500, went up in two orderly rows.

The canvas bore Greek slogans, recalling use of the tents to house Greek refugees from the Axis terror during the war. The Greeks have been accused of their home-land.

The 20 stone huts within the camp, the Carabas detention center, were built in 1919 to house White Russians who fled the revolution.

Planes from this British crown colony recently, covering the beaches and approaches.

Eight Greek attachés mounted guard over their work on the camp would not be completed for a week.

It was reported here, however, that the first batch of illegal immigrants was expected Monday. Famagusta lies on the east shore of Cyprus 175 miles northwest of Nicosia, the major port of entry for Palestine.

Inhabitants of the island reacted angrily.

Four Marines Hold Off 50 Chinese in Coal Train Ambush

Attack Takes Place Against 25-Car Train on Road to Peiping; No U.S. Casualties

Peiping, China, Aug. 10 (AP)—Four United States Marines last night held off approximately 50 Chinese who ambushed a coal train guarded by a Marine Detachment, Marine Headquarters announced today. No Marines were injured, but two Chinese casualties were reported.

The armed Chinese band detonated charges which derailed the engine and eight cars of the 25-car train on the Peiping-Mukden railroad about three miles north of Lutai, which is some 60 miles northeast of Tientsin.

The incident was the first since the July 29 fight on the Peiping-Tientsin Railway in which four Marines were killed and 11 wounded. Marine Headquarters termed that fracas a Communist ambush, but the Communists contended it was an attack by the marines.

Col. Michael F. Davis of executive (truce) headquarters yesterday accused the Communist members of a committee named to investigate the July 29 clash of thwarting an inquiry through stalling tactics.

Only yesterday executive headquarters announced that a local armistice until August 26 had been effected for Hupeh, Honan and Shansi provinces, providing that each side withdraw their fronts ten miles immediately.

Lutai, scene of today's incident, is farther north—in Hupeh province.

The coal train was bound from Kueich to Tientsin, a port due east of Tientsin. The Chinese opened fire on the caboose immediately after the explosions, the Marine announcement said. Four Marine guards riding in the caboose returned the fire.

The Marines were picked up by an 80-man rescue patrol.

Air reconnaissance this morning showed four coal cars were demolished and about 30 feet of track destroyed.

Observers here said the attackers undoubtedly were Communists.

High government officials warned shortly after the July 29 clash at Anping that the United States could expect further Communist attacks on marines in North China. That ambush, and the kidnapping of seven marines a fortnight earlier, they termed the beginning of a concerted attempt by Communists to force the Marines out of China.

Harmony Is Noted
New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Party harmony was the keynote of the Brooklyn Democratic organization today after the unanimous election of Borough President John Cashmore as chairman of the county committee succeeding the late Frank V. Kelly. Mayor O'Dwyer in a statement expressed his gratification at Cashmore's election. O'Dwyer said Cashmore had agreed to continue as borough president at the mayor's request.

Army Tries to Identify Six Persons Killed in Air Crash

Great Falls, Mont., Aug. 10 (AP)—Army authorities today were engaged in the grim task of completing identification of the charred bodies of six persons killed when two attack bombers collided during an airshow before 20,000 horrified spectators at the North Montana State Fair.

Two of the dead, killed when a plane hurtled into a racehorse barn, were identified as Lt. Arthur Pelletier, Cleveland, and Dorothy Mae Szabo, a Montana State University student.

Two persons in the vicinity of the horsebarn when the plane struck were treated for shock and burns. Eight automobiles parked by the structure were demolished.

Three Persons Involved in Incidents; Are on U. S. Payrolls as Civilian Aides

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—The United States has protested strongly to the Communist dominated government of Romania against detention of Romanian citizens employed by the United States military and political missions at Bucharest.

Diplomatic officials who disclosed this today consider the arrests to be part of a Romanian government attempt to smash political opposition of a kind which Britain and the United States accept as "democratic."

The incidents go back to last May 26 and involve three persons. On that night Romanian government agents arrested Miss Elvira Olteanu, a clerk in the American political mission headed by Minister Burton Y. Berry.

Despite persistent efforts by Berry to obtain her release, Miss Olteanu is still held incommunicado reportedly on a charge that she gave some sort of information to the United States.

Also held incommunicado is Teodor Manicatu, an employee of the military mission headed by Brig. Gen. C. V. R. Schuyler, American representative on the marines.

Like Miss Olteanu, Manicatu is accused of membership in three secret terrorist organizations and espionage for a foreign power.

Another incident that night was the disappearance of Alexandru Stanescu, another employee of the military mission. His fate is a mystery.

The Romanian government has announced that Miss Olteanu and Manicatu are accused of giving information to an officially unidentified foreign power, along with about 75 others.

Privately Romanian officials are reported to have advised American diplomats that trial would arouse hostility to the United States and therefore ought to be secret. Officials here described themselves as flatly opposed to any kind of secrecy.

Furthermore, He Says, His Unit Is Known as Bilbo Klan No. 40, Mississippi

Doesn't Know Aims

Senator Says He Has No Knowledge of What Klan Stands For

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—Sen. Theodore "The Man" Bilbo (D-Miss.) told a nationwide radio audience last night that he is a member of the Ku Klux Klan although "not in sympathy with some of the things in it."

"I am a member of the Ku Klux Klan No. 40, called the Bilbo Klan No. 40, Mississippi," the senator said in answer to a question by Lawrence Spivak of the American Mercury.

"I attended one meeting and have not attended it since, because I was not in sympathy with some of the things in it," he added.

Bilbo declared he could get Klan support now because "no man can leave the Klan. He takes an oath not to do that. Once a Ku Klux, always a Ku Klux."

The senator was interviewed by four newspaper and magazine correspondents in the National Broadcasting System network show "Meet the Press." The interviewers were Ernest K. Lindley of Newsweek, Cecil B. Dickson of Gannett Publications, Bert Andrews of the New York Herald Tribune and Spivak.

Under questioning by Spivak, Bilbo declared that "I am not informed that the Ku Klux Klan as I know it is seeking to undermine the government."

He said he was "not advised" what the Klan stands for at present but "I heard Gov. Talmadge tell some newspaper last Friday night, they could find out all about it by consulting Gov. Arnall of Georgia. He is a member and received a plaque award as a member."

Won't Support Traitor
He said the Klan would not, however, support Arnall because "no traitor of the organization, or any Klan, ever got any support."

Bilbo denied that he believed in "lynch law" and said that in eight years as governor of Mississippi "I did everything in my power to do away with the lynch law in my state."

Andrews then asked him about the statement he was reported to have made during the recent campaign that "the way to stop negroes from voting was to start from the night before."

Bilbo: "The reporters may not be so reliable."

Andrews: "I think on this, sir, I would bet on the reporters' integrity against yours, because all of the reporters seem to agree on that particular quote."

The senator then said the exact statement he had made was: "The best time to keep a nigger away from a white primary in Mississippi was to see him the night before."

No Right to Vote
He explained that "we thought, under the law, he had no right to vote, and the best thing was to see him and advise with him the night before and tell him that he had no right, because I read the law in practically every speech I made, passed in 1902, that disqualified every negro in Mississippi from voting in a white Democratic primary."

During the course of the 30-minute broadcast, Bilbo termed Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) the "blab-blah-blah of the Senate," said Hodge Carter, Pulitzer prize winner and publisher of the Greenville, Miss., Times, is "the biggest liar in the south," and denied he was prejudiced against Italians or "high class Jews."

In response to questioning about Bilbo's "Dear Dago" letter to a New York woman, the senator declared "I used an old southern phrase that we always use when we speak to certain classes of Europeans."

"In that connection, I want to say that I have no prejudices whatever against the Italian people, because all the Italians in Mississippi support me, and all the high class Jews support me."

B. P. W. Employees Receive New Hourly Wage Increase

Scale Boosts Average Pay 70-75 Cents Per Hour; 5-Day Week Granted

A wage increase of approximately 18 1/2 cents an hour for all Board of Public Works employees was announced yesterday by Mayor Edelmuth following an executive session of the B.P.W. at city hall.

The new wage scale boasts the average pay for B.P.W. laborers to between 70 and 75 cents an hour and will become effective at the next pay period.

Action taken yesterday follows negotiations conducted by the American Federation of state, county and municipal employees, Local 316, and will affect approximately 120 workers.

Among the new points granted city employees are:

A five day week.
Time and a half for all overtime in excess of 40 hours.

Six paid holidays—New Year's, Memorial Day, the 4th of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Pay every two weeks on Friday.

Two-weeks vacation with pay for all employees who have served for more than 12 months.

Five days sick leave each year after 12 months service.

Mayor Edelmuth said the wage boost places city employees on a comparable level with other industries workers in the area and would insure greater efficiency in the department. The members of the Board concurred unanimously in the resolution granting the wage increase.

Relief Inspectors Are Reported Satisfied

Moscow, Aug. 10 (AP)—Members of the delegation from the American Society for Russian Relief, who have been visiting in Russia since July 17, left by plane this morning for Prague and the United States. They are expected to reach New York August 14.

The group came to the U.S.S.R. at the invitation of the Soviet government, the Russian Red Cross and Red Crescent to check on the use to which $80,000,000 in supplies sent to this country by the relief society during the last five years have been put. Members expressed satisfaction with the results of their survey.

Russians Plan Own Rules for Their Section

Vienna, Aug. 10 (AP)—A Soviet about-face on the nationalization of industry threatened today to dismember Austria, as the Russians bluntly "reserved the right" to invalidate four-power control by following a separate set of rules for their own occupation zone.

Col. Gen. L. V. Kurasov, Soviet commander in Austria, called for a showdown by demanding an Allied veto of Austrian nationalization legislation as an "unfriendly act," after having supported it on a general Communist principle until discovering that it would nationalize several eastern Austrian assets in the Soviet zone which the Russians now claim as their own.

Gen. Mark W. Clark, U. S. commander in Austria, refused to comply with the Russian demand. He announced flatly that he would withhold his veto. Unless all four commanding generals veto legislation, it becomes effective by default in 31 days.

Clark said the government recognized the right of Austria to nationalize industry, including that of foreigners, provided it was done by Democratic process, fairly and with equitable reimbursement to the owners.

When Kurasov saw that the American veto would be withheld, he declared:

"Russia reserves the right in the Soviet zone of Austria to take such action as it deems necessary to safeguard Soviet property."

Just what was meant by Soviet property in eastern Austria was not clear because Kurasov has refused to discuss the definition of German assets under the broad terms of the Potsdam agreement.

If the Russians refuse to permit Austria to carry out the nationalization law in the Soviet zone, they probably will be charged in the Allied control council with violating the Allied control agreement, which provides that the various commanders may take independent action in their respective zones only in the absence of combined action by the council.

LaGuardia in Prague

Prague, Aug. 10 (AP)—A stein of Pilsen beer was handed to F. H. LaGuardia today as the U.N.R.R.A. director arrived from Geneva.

LaGuardia smacked his lips appreciatively and said he was delighted to be in a republic which was working hard and in which U.N.R.R.A. aid was effective. Dr. Jaromir Dolansky, Communist minister of finance, greeted LaGuardia, who later was a luncheon guest of U. S. Ambassador Laurence A. Steinhardt. President Eduard Benes will decorate U.N.R.R.A. chief.

Panic Spreads in Dominican Republic; 73 Persons Killed

Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic, Aug. 10 (AP)—Panic spread through the northern provinces of this battered country today, with hunger threatening the weary population as the result of a six-day ordeal of earthquakes and tidal waves which have killed 73 persons and left 20,000 homeless.

Earth tremors of varying intensity were jarring the terrain throughout the republic about every five minutes.

Not a single inhabitant remains in the shattered coastal towns of Matanzas, Puerto Plata, Batey, Samana and Sanchez where there was a swift evacuation following Sunday's earthquakes. Many refugees from the destroyed towns are living in trees and caves in nearby hills. The Red Cross has set up refugee camps in the northern provinces.

Yugoslavian Says Greek Policy Has Been for War in Balkans

Paris, Aug. 10 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov stalked out of a session of the Paris peace conference today as Premier Constantin Tsaldaris of Greece mentioned the Russian diplomat by name and waved a manuscript in his general direction during heated debate on the question of whether to invite Albania to the conference.

Molotov left the chamber in similar fashion yesterday when Tsaldaris was speaking, as he was today, in opposition to the Yugoslav proposal that Albania be invited to the peace negotiations with a "consultative" voice.

(Albania's request for membership in the United Nations now is being considered by a committee of the U. N. in New York.)

Molotov remained away throughout the remainder of Tsaldaris' address and the two translations of it which followed.

At the time of Molotov's departure, Tsaldaris was declaring that the inviting powers had not "wished to carry their generosity toward former enemies" too far.

"They recognized the dangers of such a policy," he said. "Mr. Molotov recalled that the other day in the rules committee in this fashion: 'Impunity in such a case and the refusal to defend the legitimate rights of states which suffered from aggression . . . there is something which has nothing in common with the interests of a just and durable peace and something which can only breed those who prepare new aggression and follow their imperialistic rapacious ends.'"

Criticizes Manuisky
Tsaldaris also criticized a statement of the Ukrainian delegate, Dmitri Manuisky, yesterday that Albania had made "an important contribution to the allies" as "completely contrary to the truth."

"Mr. Manuisky, conscious perhaps of the feebleness of his argument on this point, tried with an effort of the imagination to give the resistance of the Albanian people against the armies of the Axis significance and importance which only the distance between the Ukraine and Albania can explain," Tsaldaris said.

Josef Korbel, Czechoslovak delegate, declared that "in our opinion Albania was during the war and now is de facto an ally" and asked whether it "would not be in the interest of peace and of solidarity in the Mediterranean area to hear the words of Albania."

The Czechoslovak delegation introduced a resolution inviting Albania "to state her point of view at the plenary session and at the appropriate commissions regarding the peace treaty with Italy in which she is interested."

Tsaldaris took the floor after Poland had supported the Yugoslav proposal to invite Albania and after Britain had demanded that the question be turned over to a committee, along with proposed invitations to Cuba, Egypt and Mexico.

Assails Greek Policy
Mosha Pijade, Yugoslav delegate, said Greek "policy always has been to foment and start war in the Balkans" and to divide Albania. He asserted that Tsaldaris had "suggested to me that Albania should be divided between Greece and Yugoslavia."

Tsaldaris protested, declaring: "It is incorrect that the Greeks proposed the division of Albania."

Greek sources suggested that Pijade was referring to a meeting which took place Thursday between Tsaldaris and Edward Kardelj, chief of the Yugoslav delegation. At this meeting, the Greek sources said, Tsaldaris brought up Greece's claim to the Northern Epirus, to which Kardelj reserved his opinion, and Kardelj asked for Greek support of the Yugoslav claim to Trieste. Tsaldaris, it was said, made no commitment on this point.

Andrej J. Vishinsky, a Soviet delegate, charged that Tsaldaris "tried to spread false rumors" in his address yesterday.

The Russian declared "the Al-

Some Price Jumps In Eating Places To Be Reversed

Many Increases Will Be Rolled Back to the June 30 Price O.P.A. Says

Explaining amended menu provisions, Lester W. Herzog, director of the 16-county Albany O.P.A. area, said that unregulated price rises in restaurants have been prevalent, even for dishes of meat, dairy products and other decontrolled foods.

Many price increases since June 30 will have to be rolled back, he stated. Some will be allowed to remain but each must be accounted for in accordance with a standard cost-plus formula. Restaurants disregarding the formula will face court actions, Herzog added.

New food posters will be released by O.P.A., but beer and beverage posters must not be taken down, he warned. He noted the fact that meat, dairy products and other food items have been decontrolled, restaurant menu prices are still under control.

Stated for Cuts
Items on menus which must be rolled back to their June 30 ceilings are fresh fruits and vegetables, juices, melons, fresh fruit cups, cereals, most salads and desserts, such as fruit pies, cakes and cookies.

Where a dish contains more than 25 per cent of decontrolled foods, the restaurant or hotel is allowed to ask a different price than the June 30 ceiling, provided the increased menu prices are computed and filed according to O.P.A. regulations, Mr. Herzog said. This applies to the price of "table d'hôte" or complete meals, when the main course is decontrolled food.

The O.P.A. regulations further provide that the increased menu prices reflect only the actual increased costs of the decontrolled foods, plus the mark-up, now in use in the establishment.

Example Cited
In permitting the price increase, the O.P.A. expressed the policy that the general average price range be maintained wherever possible. According to the regulations, minimum prices in a group must be kept. For example, if luncheons were offered under the old ceilings from 75 cents to $1.50, it is necessary to continue to offer some at 75 cents but the maximum price range may be increased.

Responsible for Records
It also was explained that restaurants and hotels would be responsible for the record-keeping provisions relating to the recalculation of prices. In addition, menus are required to carry the following legend: "Our ceiling prices are in conformance with the provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942."

Beverage menu prices must be rolled back to those prices in effect on June 30, except that a mixed drink composed of imported or domestic wine and imported distilled spirits other than all types of imported whiskies, may be changed by using the same method used for determining increased food ceiling prices and making the required filing, Mr. Herzog said.

Imported wine and imported distilled spirits, other than all types of imported whiskies, when sold by the bottle or straight drink were exempted from price control under the restaurant regulation nearly a year ago, he added.

Twenty-seven pounds of milk are needed to make one pound of butter.

Fifty-three consuls and purchasing agents of foreign countries are expected to visit the fair on Consuls' Day, Thursday, August 29. A two-day county tour has been arranged for them.

Governor Dewey is expected to be present on Wednesday, August 28, Governor's Day and it is anticipated he will speak during the afternoon after making a tour of the grounds and exhibits.

Conforming to past tradition, Tuesday, August 27, will be Children's day and free passes have been distributed to all county school children for this date. "The final day of the fair will be Thrill day with a special show of hair-raising stunts by death-defying car and motorcycle drivers."

More than 3,000 4-H Club exhibits have been entered by 1,000 4-H Club members representing every township in the county. One of the big features of the 4-H show will be the colorful Baby Beef Club show and sale on Tuesday. ## Class Completes Brief Course on Musical Styles With Dr. Paul Schwartz of Bard Teaching

During the past five evenings a group interested in music have considered it a privilege to study a brief course on musical styles under the instruction of Dr. Paul Schwartz, director of music at Bard College, pianist, composer and conductor. The class met each evening in the lecture room of the First Dutch Reformed Church and studied styles of composition written during the last 1,000 years with illustrations played on the violin, piano, organ and violoncello.

The class was sponsored by the Musical Society of Kingston who through Mrs. A. Noble Graham and Mrs. Florence Cubberley had secured Dr. Schwartz for a guest speaker at a recent meeting. Following this meeting it was decided to organize such a class.

In order to review such a scope of time, Dr. Schwartz gave a concise outline of each period. With his many anecdotes about composers and the writings he made the material most interesting. Last night he summed up six points in musical style as temporal meaning, rhythm, accent, metre, beat and speed; tonal meaning, scale, melody, phrase, sentence, motif and form; texture marked particularly by counterpoint or harmony; medium, means of expression such as instruments or voices; and expression concerning the dynamics and agogics.

From Early Styles
The class first studied the pre-Gothic styles of the early church particularly the Gregorian Chants which were sung in unaccompanied unison, by men only and used in the Catholic church with texts in Latin. During the Gothic period, approximately 12th to 15th centuries, other parts were added and later the Mass with its six movements came into being along with the sacred motet and the secular madrigals and ballade.

As with other movements in the Renaissance period, music found a great change in the combination of instrument with voice in the oratorios and the birth of the opera in Italy. The next period, 16th to 18th centuries, was characterized by the baroque styles of ornateness. Among those introduced were suite, sonata, concerto grosso, toccata, fantasia, pasticcato and fugue, the latter of which probably reached its height, Dr. Schwartz noted.

During the Classical period when perhaps one of the greatest music was written, the sonata reached its supreme height, symphony and string quartet were introduced as instruments and instrumentalists became better. There was a definite form to the compositions. The next period, Romantic, brought into being the great music drama of Wagner and also the virtuoso writing of Chopin and Liszt. Berlioz created program music and tried the symphonic poem which during the impressionistic period to follow became highly developed. The impressionists looked for the exotic in scales and soft mellow moving harmonies to create an impression. The Expressionists of the present century write for impression plus interpretation of what they see.

Nationality of Composers
As each period was discussed Dr. Schwartz pointed out the characteristics of the times which might have influenced the writing. He also marked the nationality of the composers showing how each style developed in each of the countries. During the early opera period in Italy where the work was originated by Peri were such composers as Caccini and Monteverdi; in France, Lully who was an Italian by birth; in England, Purcell and in Germany, Schuetz. The nucleus of musicians for the Classical period centered in the German speaking countries, especially in Vienna with such names as (Gluck, Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, who later became a Romanticist. Some of the other Romanticists were Schubert, Mendelssohn, Chopin, Robert Franz, Liszt, Brahms, Bruckner, Wagner, Tchaikowsky, Moussorgsky, Rimsky-Korsakoff. Impressionism started with Debussy in France was used by Ravel another Frenchman; Respighi, Italy; de Falla, Spain; Scriabine, Russia; and Delius, England. Germans did not like Impressionism.

COURTESY IN REVERSE GEAR

The following letter presents a suggestion which should be nipped in the bud: "As a social secretary I address wedding invitations and announcements and in this connection I have met with a difference of opinion. Many of the families want to cut the number of invitations wherever possible and, accordingly, one invitation is sent to a mother and two unmarried daughters, all living together, or else to a mother, father and their two sons or daughters—all at home. In many instances, the younger people are the particular friends and their parents are included only in courtesy. It has been suggested to me that such a mailing envelope be addressed to 'The Misses Mary and Sarah Smith' and the mother's or parents' name be added on the inside envelope. In my opinion this is impolite. Regardless of which ones are the greater friends, I think the mailing envelope should be addressed to the parents and the daughters or sons' names added to theirs on the second envelope. But as my opinion is convincing no one, I'm even beginning to doubt it myself. Will you please give us your advice?"

First of all, an envelope addressed "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith" with "The Misses Mary and Sarah Smith" on the line below is absolutely correct. The Messrs. Smith" have to have a separate envelope. Apart from this, in answer to your question, you are right! To put the parents as an extra on the inside envelope would be as shocking as though one suggested the parents should stand while young people are seated. (This simile is not very apt but illustrates the inpropriety).

Present-Giving to Attendants

Dear Mrs. Post: When shall we give our wedding attendants their gifts? My fiancé has his ready and so have I for my maid of honor and bridesmaids. Someone told us we put them at their places at the wedding reception. Answer: A man usually gives his at his "bachelor" dinner and the bride at the "bridesmaid's luncheon." If they are not having either, they are given anytime the day before the wedding. Correctly, these presents are worn at the wedding.

How early are wedding invitations mailed? The answer is found in Mrs. Post's leaflet, "Wedding Invitations and Announcements," obtainable for a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to her in care of this newspaper. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

What It Means

The U. S. Move to Curb the Veto

By SIGRID ARNE
Washington—The United States has taken two steps that look as though it would support a move to whittle down the "veto" power in the United Nations.

That question is due to come up, perhaps explosively, before the U.N. General Assembly of 51 nations in September. It will be brought up by the dramatic Herbert V. Eustis of Australia, a consistent fighter against the veto since the U.N. charter was written at San Francisco.

The "veto" is a voting formula. On all votes to take important action in the security council the Big Five—the U. S., the United Kingdom, Russia, France and China—must agree. If one of them votes "No" there can be no action. Russia has voted "No" several times already, to the obvious irritation of other nations.

Little Nations Checkmated
All the 46 little nations in U.N. could favor an action, but if one of the big powers said "No" the little nations could just bite their fingers-nails. It is for that reason that Eustis, representing a small nation, has battled so valiantly.

At San Francisco Russia insisted on the veto. The U. S., U. K., China and France supported the idea, but it was never known just how enthusiastically the four went along. The conference was run on the thesis that the five big nations must agree or there would be no world organization.

U. S. Hints a Change
Now the U. S., whose power has to be reckoned with, seems ready to apply the knife. The two steps it has taken are these:

1.—It insists there must be no veto on the board which will control use of atomic energy. Here the U. S. has heavy debate advantage—it has the bomb.

2.—The U. S. took a line at the Paris meeting of the foreign ministers which can throw the final decision on Italy's African colonies into the general assembly, where action would take on a two-thirds vote and no veto permitted.

In both steps the United Kingdom supported the U. S. China may line up with them in a showdown battle. At San Francisco Chinese delegates told a press conference that their nation placed no emphasis on the veto. France's vote could be uncertain because of the power of the Communists at home.

Strength of Opposition
The rebellion of the little nations at San Francisco against the veto was obvious in the two votes which put the veto into the U.N. working machinery.

On the vote on adoption of the veto, the Big Powers won 30 to 2. But 13 nations refused to vote. Had they voted against the idea the tally would have been 30 to 17. The measure would have failed because it took two-thirds approval to win.

This two-thirds vote obtains also in the U. N. general assembly, and that 30 to 17 line-up could re-occur in the September session. Some of the 30 could even switch, experts here admit.

The second vote at San Francisco that revealed feeling about the veto was on the general idea Eustis may propose now as an amendment: that the Big Five should exercise the veto only when voting on punitive action. It would apply when the United Nations were discussing "near-ful arrangements."

On this vote at San Francisco the big powers got even less support. The vote was 20 to 10, and again 15 nations abstained. If the 15 had voted with the 10, the big powers would have been swamped.

The oncoming argument will likely prove involved.

Russia Holds Trump

If the general assembly votes to amend or to kill the veto, the debate itself could run into the veto. To write amendments two-thirds of the assembly of 51 nations must vote "Yes," including all the Big Five. That could mean that Russia, the champion of the veto, could vote "No," and the whole argument, would be out the window.

Experts on international negotiating say there is only one hope, in such a deadlock: That the debates in the assembly might kick such a storm of public opinion around the world that Russia would back down.

STANDARDS FOR TEACHERS

Which is worse, a poor teacher or none at all? This is the only choice in many parts of the United States, according to A. C. Flora, superintendent of schools in Columbia, S. C., in an address before the National Education Association Conference. According to him 110,000 teachers are now in the schools on emergency licenses, having failed to meet the minimum requirements of their own states. Before the end of the year the number may reach 125,000. That would mean that one out of every eight or ten teachers is definitely below the lowest tolerated standard.

The war, of course, made it necessary to hire these unqualified instructors. But before that, many communities had to take poor teachers or none. Low salaries were one reason. Hardly less influential is the practice in many towns and villages of regulating the teacher's private life, and forbidding her to dance, play cards or go to the movies. Bossing the teacher is a luxury which these communities will have to give up if they want any teachers at all.

The establishment of a national standard might help, thinks Supt. Flora. This would include a college degree as a minimum requirement. The effect of this new standard ought to stir up those states which have been slow to recognize their need for better schools.

One respect in which men are better off than women is that when they go to a party, they do not have to decide whether to wear a hat.

SENATE PRESIDENCY

One reason why Senator Kenneth D. McKellar of Tennessee won a large majority for renomination may be the fact that he is now president pro tempore of the Senate. This position sounds wonderful to the home folks, but actually means but little. The sole duty of the post is to preside over the Senate in the absence of the vice-president. When this job becomes too heavy, the president can and generally does call some other senator to the chair, and retires to the cloakroom or his private office.

Once the post was more important, when the president of the Senate stood just after the vice-president in line of succession to the presidency. In 1886 the President, Grover Cleveland, was a Democrat, the Vice-President had died, and the president of the Senate was a Republican. The death of the President would mean that the party beaten in the last national election would take over the government, contrary to the expressed will of the voters. The law was therefore changed to the present arrangement, whereby the presidential succession goes down through the cabinet, starting with the secretary of state. Last year President Truman asked Congress to restore the old system, but the proposal got nowhere.

Walt Disney has laid off 430 helpers because of increased production costs. Inflation is closing in on the world of whimsy.

PEACEFUL ATOM

The use of atomic energy for peacetime pursuits has begun. One year after the bomb burst over Hiroshima the government has released five minute particles of Carbon 14 for purposes of civilian research.

It is believed that this radioactive carbon will lead to new knowledge about cancer and some other diseases. The bit sold to the University of Minnesota will be used in study of the formation of human teeth and the causes of their decay.

Orders are piling up for the radio-carbon and other radioactive elements which are by-products of atom explosives. The great plant at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, so secret during its frantic work during the war, has become the source of materials sought by research scientists the country over.

The atomic era, heralded as the most dramatic the world has ever faced, is now in a phase which could develop into a

CONFERENCES GALORE

There are people who when they can think of nothing important to do, call a conference. These gabfests are held all over the country. I have attended hundreds of them during the past 15 years. Each year the same speeches are delivered that were delivered the year before, often by the same speakers. If somebody says something new or different, he gums up the works. If he lays it on the line, he is a reactionary and the do-gooders gang up on him. If his ideas do not conform to the do-gooders' patterns of the moment, he is regarded as anti-social.

The most important person at a conference is the public relations counsel. Sometimes he writes the speeches. His business is to see to it that those who attend get their names in the newspapers and get time on the radio. That is the great man's compensation for attending conferences. Some men are famous only because they attend conferences; otherwise nobody would ever hear of them. They would remain competent business men or able laborers or rule-of-thumb public officials, but to the people they would be utterly unknown. So they hire speech writers and go to conferences.

The latest proposal for one of these speech marathons is another Labor-Management Conference, initiated and promoted by Morris Llewellyn Cooke of Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia. True, according to the Constitution, legislation is the function of Congress and at its last session, Congress tried to make the Case Bill law, actually enacted the Hobbs Bill and did what it could with Truman's labor proposals. But Mr. Cooke wants labor and management to get together to talk things over. They have been talking things over for years and the conversation has not been so pleasant. At any rate, the automobile industry seems to feel that this is no time for talking; it is time for making cars. Most industrialists feel the same way about their products.

The publicity on the proposed conference suggests that instead of class warfare, what is needed is "team-play." When did you hear that one last?

The trouble with those who still talk about "team-play" is that they don't know what the shouting is about. They still live in Mother Goose's story book. The issue that is putting our economy out of joint is whether management or the labor unions is to control manpower and production, whether Alfred Sloan or Walter Reuther is to run General Motors. Ultimately that issue will be decided by strikes or by Congressional legislation. It will not be resolved at a conference run by do-gooders.

Mr. Cooke has laid down four points for the smooth operation of American industry:

1. Wages must keep pace with increased production.

2. The consumer must share in prosperity with lower prices.

3. There must be clear-cut rules of the game, scrupulously obeyed.

4. There must be well-tried team-play between labor, management and other economic groups.

That sounds fine until a decision has to be made about time-studies and such technicalities. The trend in labor is to ask for an annual living wage irrespective of production. The trend in management is to avoid bankruptcy by rejecting production at a loss. Somewhere a decision has to be made as to the relationship between wages and production, and as it looks now, it cannot be made at a coffee-klatch.

Now, look at point number 3:

3. There must be clear-cut rules of the game, scrupulously obeyed.

Isn't that nice? It is almost too good to be true. Who is to make the rules and who is to enforce obedience? What game is being played, anyhow? Pinochle or rummy or Russian bank?

Unfortunately, the labor problem that faces the United States is too serious for this sort of hogwash. We face a fundamental problem which the London Economist described as the stick or the carrot. You can make an ass move by keeping a stick to it, or you can make it move by giving it a carrot. If the stick is a red and the carrot has lost its flavor as well as its color, what is the ass incentive for moving? Ask the 52-20 boys!

BACKGROUND IS IMPORTANT

The story is told of a young woman from a country district who had married wealth and position and moved to the city. She became ill and notwithstanding all hospital observations and consultations with skilled physicians, she apparently was not helped. Finally in despair the husband sent for the old family physician to come to the city.

After examining the reports of the various specialists all of whom were unable to find any cause for her symptoms, the old family physician himself made a complete examination—having her lie on her side, back, stomach, standing, sitting. He then had her lie on her stomach and gave her a real spanking.

Why did the family physician use such a crude if not a cruel method of treatment? It was because he had brought her into the world, knew her as a child and growing girl, pretty but spoiled by her parents. Her present symptoms were caused by emotional disturbances—not having entirely her own way.

It can readily be seen that the country family physician's knowledge of her own and her family's history enabled him to see that she was using her symptoms—tantrums, temper, moodiness—to get her own way. In fact in a quiet talk later she admitted this to the physician. In an article on psychiatric diagnosis (finding out why the emotions are causing symptoms), Dr. Earl Saxe, in the Medical Clinics of North America, says:

"For the proper psychiatric understanding it is absolutely necessary to know the patient's background. The history is the most important part of the examination. The history shows the character of the patient." In this regard the family doctor is in an enviable position for he often has detailed historical knowledge of his patient. The mental specialist, examining a patient, does not have this knowledge of the patient and so must ask a great many questions regarding family and private life. This takes time and patience for doctor and patient.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By LEONARD KIRSCHEN

Bucharest, Aug. 10 UP—Every evening between seven and nine o'clock a gay, carefree mass of variegated humanity jostles and worms its way up and down the Calea Victoriei and the Boulevard Elizabetha in Bucharest's shopping and theatre center.

Maidens sway past in gaily colored frocks, officers jingle their spurs and beaus twirl their trim, pointed moustaches. When the moon comes out over the famous Military Square, amateur star gazers, for a nickel, can look to their heart's content at the moon and starry sky. Romance is to be had for nothing and thousands relax from daily cares.

One day those responsible for the political education of the young people in Bucharest were surprised to find that some of these carefree energy should be harnessed for useful purposes.

Anyway, one evening of a hot summer day, two earnest young men began an argument, quite near the throng of moon-gazers. Gesticulating wildly and shouting at the top of their voices, the two young men argued for and against the government. Strollers stopped to listen and crowds gathered. Within an hour some 50 men and women were taking sides in the debate.

The two young men disappeared and in their stead, hovering on the outskirts of the group, were five or six policemen fingering their rubber bats. But there were no lights, no violence and no arrests.

Encouraged by the experiment, more earnest young men started open-air debates and more crowds gathered. Today they are regular features of Bucharest's evening parades.

The soap-box oratory is still in its infancy. There is still speculation as to when the first fight but the opposition made at least one point in the interminable series.

will break out. For the moment the discussions appear to serve as a daily opinion poll for the government which realizes that opposition sympathies are deep rooted and widespread.

Perhaps this is the reason for one of Romania's most popular radio shows. For 15 minutes every Monday the government-controlled Bucharest Radio Station gives time to Nae (pronounced Nae-Yeah), Smaranda, his wife, and Costache (pronounced Kostache).

Nae, a henpecked husband, is an ardent supporter of the opposition parties. When he is around the corner at the drugstore buying something for Smaranda or down in the cellar fetching turnips and onions, boy friend Costache tries to say Nae, when Smaranda and Costache are alone they have other things to talk about, but when the perspiring, panting, and probably disheveled Nae comes to the mike with his armful of turnips and onions, the three slide into a political argument. Costache is a staunch government man.

Maybe Smaranda's secret passion for Costache helps, but the bright and progressive boy friend always manages to swing household opinion around the government viewpoint. He calls it common sense.

But the other day there was a newspaper columnist. The tired script writer of this government-sponsored political soap opera must have taken pity on Nae's more intimate household troubles. For Nae scored heavily on friend Costache in the weekly argument. What the script writer and the government censor got for that in the way of rebuke no one knows, of arguments which always ended in government support. Costache's favor. That was the political side of it. But for thousands of listening, henpecked husbands, the worm had turned.

Facts for Vets

Jewel S. was a member of the National Guard when, prior to December 7, 1941, he was mustered into service. He was sent to Hawaii where he was stationed at Pearl Harbor. After the Japanese attack, Jewel was declared missing in action. On February 15, 1942, his mother was officially notified of his death. The mother was dependent upon Jewel. Although she now is receiving a death pension and has received the death gratuity and accrued pay, she has been given no information regarding government insurance. She now is wondering if Jewel carried such insurance.

Many men were hurriedly mustered into service and sent outside the United States during the attack on Pearl Harbor and immediately after. Consequently, due to the pressures of the emergency, these men lacked the chance to subscribe to government insurance at a time when it was evident that their lives were in real jeopardy.

Recognizing the unfairness of this situation, the government provided that men in this group who were in active service on or after December 7, 1941, and before April 20, 1942, and who died in minimum of $5,000 government insurance, were automatically granted such insurance.

In this case, Jewel's mother must prove that she was dependent upon him for support at the time of his death. She must also file a claim for the insurance within five years of the official date set by the War Department as the date of her son's death. As a matter of routine, the Veterans Administration forwards the necessary forms for this action to the soldier's mother. Apparently, the dead soldier's mother did not receive the proper claim form.

Her local Red Cross chapter advised her to prepare a letter to the Veterans Administration making claim for the benefit. The Home Service worker will be glad to help Jewel's mother write the letter.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

A Record Victory
New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Aldo P. Mac Cagle, 26, said he was one of seven men ordered to bail out by Colin Kelly during the mission on which his famous dive on the battleship Haruna took place. Mac Cagle said he escaped to Luzon, fought until captured at Corregidor, escaped from Santo Tomas prison, fought with the guerrillas and finally got home for discharge.

Get the Gun
Altamont, Mo., Aug. 10 (AP)—Farmer Joe Kinsella reports that while he was working in a field a pack of 15 foxes approached him and chased him into the yard of his home.

Many farmers in his vicinity are carrying shotguns to their fields to guard against the animals.

The influx of the foxes is believed caused by heavy trapping in surrounding counties.

More Fun This Way

West Plains, Mo., Aug. 10 (AP)—Frank Max has lost some of his faith in human nature.

He offered an unpicked crop of peaches to friends and neighbors and even offered to help them pick the fruit.

That night the trees were picked clean by persons unknown.

Miss Chicago from I-O-Way
Chicago, Aug. 10 (AP)—Miss Gloria Leachman, 20, was chosen "Miss Chicago" over 14 rivals in a judging contest last night.

But Miss Leachman lives in suburban Evanston, where she attends Northwestern University and her home is in Des Moines, Ia.

Strike Remains Unsettled
New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—The strike of C.I.O. American Communications Association members against Press Wireless, Inc., remained stalemated today after a meeting between company and union officials last night failed to produce a settlement.

Liens Against Lustig
Amount to $5,781.925
New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Tax liens totaling $5,781.925 were filed in Federal court yesterday against Henry Lustig and the corporations in his Longchamps restaurant chain.

The liens, filed by William J. Pedrick, collector of internal revenue for the second New York district, are for personal income, corporate income and excess profits taxes during 1940, 1941, 1942 and 1943 through 1944 for the corporations.

Richard J. Burke, an attorney for Lustig, challenged the government's figures and said the government already had been paid $2,490,878.

Assistant United States Attorney Louis Bender said, however, that the original sum claimed by the government was $8,392,998 and the $2,490,878 already had been deducted.

Lustig was sentenced July 10 to four years in prison and fined $115,000 for income tax evasion. O.P.A. said.

Guests Are 'Roughing It'
Rye, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—Guests at the exclusive Westchester Country Club are roughing it these days. A strike of A.F.L. employees seeking a closed shop for the club to make their own beds yesterday and supper was served buffet-style. James A. McHugh, general manager of the club, said the guests were delighted with their supper but he seemed to feel that some of the guests might be roughing it "behind yourself" and "They do pile it in," he declared.

Ceiling Upped on Leather
Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—The possibility of still higher prices for shoes moved into the picture today as O.P.A. granted ceiling increases of up to 30 per cent on leather. Any price increases granted "will be moderate," O.P.A. said.

Will Move U. N.
Without Charge
New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Because a moving contractor admires the "great work" of the United Nations, the organization will have its 40,000 to 50,000 items moved to Long Island from its old headquarters at Hunter College for $1.

Normal cost of the job was estimated at between $12,000 to $15,000. U.N. officials will be Japanese.

Oil in the Philippines
American interests plan to resume oil exploration in the Philippines this year. Oil was found at a depth of 9,000 feet shortly before the islands fell to the Japanese.

Clintons-Newburgh Meet Sunday Night in Championship Tilt; City League All-Star Team Chosen for Game Against Recs

Neff Is Slated To Take Mound; Crowd Expected

Local Aggregation Seeks Eighth Straight Victory; ArcLight Contest to Start 9 P.M.

With the championship of the Mid-Hudson Baseball League at stake, the Kingston Gov. Clinton Market team will play host to the Newburgh Grandstand Tavern club Sunday night under the arc-lights at municipal stadium. Game time is scheduled for 9 o'clock and indications are that a good turnout will be in the stands.

Tickets Selling Well

Reports from Paul Misove, treasurer of the local league outfit, preface a fine throng for this important tilt which has been on the fire for a couple of weeks. "Tickets have been going quite fast," Paul said this morning "and we expect a big demand for extra passes at the gate tomorrow night."

Big Charlie Neff will be on the hill for the Clintons Sunday night and the big Stone Ridge thrower will be out to notch another triumph for Manager Tommy Maines. Neff has been the bellwether for the local squad all year long and insiders report that Charlie is in the best of condition for this big test. Should he run into any trouble Manager Maines will have Paul Misove, Artie Barnes, Bill Kaufman, Earl Reed, Sleight to call on from the bullpen.

The Clintons held their final pregame workout at the stadium last night under the watchful eye of Manager Maines and after the brisk drill the local pilot seemed well satisfied with the hustle his boys displayed. "We have our work cut out for us," Maines told reporters "but I feel confident that we can go out and win this game and the championship of the Mid-Hudson circuit."

Kingston has rolled up an impressive string of seven straight conquests in the newly-organized league so far but Sunday's contest offers the locals their best acid test of the campaign. Newburgh has an imposing record with eight stars as Tony Donato, McCormick, Ralph Petillo, the Harvard University baseball, basketball and football star; Jack Bedosky, Len Cavichio, Jimmy Altopiedi, Nick Bucci, Harry Moresco, Ed Lahey, Sunny Pepko, Howie Havens in addition to Ernie Downer and Billy Ostrom.

Behind Neff the Clinton lineup is expected to find Jack "Daisy" Schatzel at second, Captain Eddie Minasian at second, Andy Clutch on third and either Charlie Buck or Jimmy Secreto at short. The local picket line will be represented by three favorite ballhoppers—Manager Maines himself, Mac Tiano and Jimmy Ashdown. Either Joe Benjamin or George Zedany will be behind the platter.

McCormick Likely Foe

The Newburgh team, which is second place in the Mid-Hudson standings with six victories and only one setback, scored a 3 to 1 victory over the strong Stewart Field Airmen earlier this week behind the neat three-hit hurling of Bob Hansen, the former Central Valley High School flinger.

On the performance, it is very probable that Jack McCormick, the New York Yankee property, will toe the slab tomorrow night against the Gov. Clintons. Both McCormick and Hansen have been the top flingers for Newburgh this year and either one will be troublesome for the locals.

Although Billy Ostrom and Ernie Downer didn't appear with Newburgh in that victory over Stewart Field, the Hudson Valley Aces are expected to perform here tomorrow night. Ostrom is scheduled to take the hill tonight for the Recreations at the stadium which means that if he does appear with Newburgh he'll have to be in the outfield along with Downer and either Howie Havens or Ed Lahey.

Downer is currently batting at a fierce .322 clip for the Grandstand and his presence in the visiting lineup should add extra power to the Hilby City offense.

Following are the tentative lineups for tomorrow night's championship game at the stadium:

Gov. Clintons
Minasian, 2b
Secreto, ss
M. Tiano, 1b
Ashdown, rf
Schatzel, cf
Benjamin, lf
Cavichio, 3b
Neff, p

New Race Track Opens

Race N. M. Aug. 10 (P)—La Mesa Park—$100,000 new horse racing plant—opened a 20-day race here today with more than 200 horses on hand for the program. Consecutive days of racing are scheduled Saturday through Sunday and thereafter on Saturday and Sunday until September 23.

Schindler Wins Feature

Paterson, N. J. Aug. 10 (P)—Bill Schindler of Freeport, N. Y., won the five-mile mud auto race here at 6:08 at Hinchliffe Stadium last night, followed by Jimmy Ratter of Detroit and Tony Bonadus of New York.

SCOREBOARD

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Never in the history of major league baseball has one team swept an entire season's series from another, but today the National League leading Brooklyn Dodgers are halfway towards accomplishing this unprecedented feat.

In 11 skirmishes with the seventh place Philadelphia Phils, the Flatbush flock has yet to lose. They gained their 11th straight win last night in Philadelphia by the narrowest of margins, 1-0.

Last night's triumph enabled the pace-setters to maintain their two-game margin over the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals who took the measure of the Reds 5-2 in Cincinnati.

The Cards and Reds met under the lights as did all the other big league clubs making it the first time in history a full schedule has played under the lamps.

Kirby Higbe turned in the Brooklyn shutout, getting the nod over Oscar Judd when Pete Reiser singled home Pee Wee Reese in the eighth inning after the latter had doubled.

Whitely Kurovski paced a 16-hit St. Louis attack with a home run, double and two singles and drove in three mates to help Howie Feltner notch his 13th victory of the season, tops for senior circuit hurlers. Joe Garagiola, rookie Card catcher, also homered, his first in the big leagues.

Sox Increase Margin

The American League leading Boston Red Sox increased their margin over the New York Yankees to 14 games—their largest of the season—when they edged out the Bronxites 4-3 at the Yankee Stadium. A home run by Rudy York with two mates aboard in the sixth inning enabled the Sox to overcome a 3-1 deficit and give pitcher Dave (Doc) Ferriss his 19th victory against only four defeats.

The Tigers, paced by outfielder Dick Wakefield, who got five for five including a home run, moved to within a game of second place by shading the Chicago White Sox 5-4.

The Philadelphia Athletics' sixth loss in a row as southpaw Mickey Haefner outdueled Lum Harris 2-1 for his 10th victory. Held off the bases for the first five and last two innings, the Cleveland Indians exploded for five runs in the sixth of five consecutive hits and three walks to beat the St. Louis Browns 5-4.

No Luck for Bucs

Even Frank E. McKinney, new Pittsburgh Pirates' president, couldn't bring luck to his Bucs as they were trampled by the Cubs 9-3 at Forbes Field.

The Boston Braves boosted its season's mark to an even 500 with a 51-51 record as Warren Spahn held the New York Giants to seven hits to give the Braves a 5-3 victory at Boston. It was Boston's eighth win in its last 11 games.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Pete Reiser, Dodgers—Singled home Pee Wee Reese with only run of game as Brooks blanked Phils, 1-0.

Whitey Kurovski, Cardinals—Paced St. Louis' attack with two singles, double and homer driving in three runs in 5-2 verdict over Cincy.

Warren Spahn, Braves—Racked up fifth victory in six starts at Giants' expense, 5-3.

Lenny Merullo, Cubs—Hammered Pirate pitching for three doubles and a single, driving home four runs in 9-3 romp.

Rudy York, Red Sox—Crashed 14th homer of season with two on to shade Yankees, 4-3.

Dick Wakefield, Hal Newhouser, Tigers—Wakefield belted homer, two doubles and two singles in 5-4 edge over Chicago; Newhouser came in with bases loaded and none out to retire the side in last of ninth.

Rawding Is Third In Amboy Feature

Local Motorcycle Racer Resumes Where He Left Off in '39

Emerson (Crocky) Rawding is burning 'em up again.

The local motorcycle racer, veteran of international competition, was third last night at the quarter-mile speedway at Waters Stadium, Perth Amboy, N. J.

Winner of the three-quarter mile feature scratch race in 1939 was Patti Mossman of Hollywood, Calif., while Bud Reda of Totenville was second.

Rawding's return to the boards marks resumption of his favorite sport, Rawding, who during the war was at Electrol, was in England when war broke out in 1939. He narrowly missed returning on the ill-fated Athena.

Crocky has raced on major tracks all over the United States and he was in England showing how American cyclists roar around when Hitler started World War 2.

THE WINNER

Walter E. Smith (left) of Los Angeles, Calif., the owner, and Tom Berry of Lexington, Ky., driver, hold the trophies won by Chestertown in the Hambletonian Stake trotting classic at Goshen, N. Y., as Mrs. Smith holds Chestertown. Chestertown won two of the three heats to capture the stake.

Two Stake Races Are Top Features on Saratoga Card

Whitney and U. S. Hotel

Prizes Spot Juvenile

Field With Keen

Competition

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 10

Two stake races, the $25,000 Whitney and the $10,000 United States Hotel for juveniles highlight the Saratoga program for the first Saturday of the meeting.

Although the field is not large, it being named for the Whitney and seven for the Hotel stake, the competition promises to be keen.

W. L. Bramm's courageous filly, Gallorette, is top weighted in the Whitney with 121 pounds. With two seconds and a third since her victory in the Brooklyn Handicap, the four-year-old has a chance to shove her 1946 earnings over the $100,000 mark with a victory.

Mrs. E. D. Jacobs' Stymie, in under 120 pounds, will get a chance to show his stretch-running ability in the mile and one quarter event which also has drawn Mrs. P. A. D. Widener's Plyniesian, 117; William Ziegler's Bounding Home, 112; and Mrs. Walter M. Jefferts' Paid of Trymenow, 112 and Mahout 103. Mahout is the only three-year-old entered.

Gratree Stable's Gestapo and Jay Paley's I Will, each at 122 pounds, top the field for the United States Hotel stake, a race that was won last year by Crispin Oglebay's Air Hero and before that by such famous horses as Man O'War, Old Rosebud, Pompey, El Chico, Devil's Thumb and Pavot. Gestapo and I Will are expected to be almost even favorites.

William Helis' Jobstown, Belair Stud's Solator, E. P. Taylor's Cornish Knight, L. J. Lepore's Off-Islander and the Circle M Ranch Stables' Happy Blended are the other entrants. Happy Blended will carry 110 pounds but the others, except Gestapo and I Will, will tote 114 pounds.

Arcaro Rides Gestapo

Eddie Arcaro is slated to be up on Gestapo in the six-furlong dash with Eric Guerin on I Will and Hedley Woodhouse on Solator, which is expected to provide the chief contention.

Arcaro, making his return to the turf after a 10-day suspension for rough riding during the Jamaica phase of the meeting, rode Howell E. Jackson's Red Shoes to a head victory yesterday in the 22nd steeplechase, a public trial for the $15,000-added Alabama Stakes of August 21.

Fresh from tying the track record for six furlongs, Red Shoes just missed the seven-furlong standard with the excellent time of 1:23 2/5, one-fifth off the record, paying $5.40.

Crispin Oglebay's Upper Level, winner of her last four, saved the place by a neck from E. R. Bradley's Bridal Flower.

Apheim Stable's Winter Wheat drew away to win easily by eight lengths in the Chateaugay Handicap, a Class D event that served as the secondary feature. Covering the mile in 1:38 2/5, the three-year-old filly paid $7.20. Jupiter Light, the early leader, tired badly but held the place by a length and a half from a stretch-running head start.

Brooklyn Is Winner

Brooklyn, Aug. 10 (P)—With last night's emphatic 5-1 triumph over a team picked from all over the continental United States, Canada and Hawaii, Brooklyn made good its challenge to the world in the first annual "Brooklyn" world series.

Dodgers and the Brooklyn Eagle co-sponsors of the project, plan to make it an annual affair.

The usual morning check-up with weather authorities at Stewart Field in Newburgh was held about 10 o'clock to ascertain just what was in the offing in the way of the weather for tonight's diamond attraction.

"A little rain won't hurt the stadium diamond," one club spokesman said today. "The infield is pretty dry anyway and a

In the Rough

By Charlie Tiano

During our rather brief career as an alleged golfer, we have been consoled by the solicitous and comforting wail of the duffers: "Never mind, pro. Remember they don't pay off on the drive." But is that really true? Bitter experience is forcing us to believe that they DO pay off on the drive.

George Edmonds, of the St. Paul Dispatch, who is a crack golfer and bowling writer, conducted a successful test to prove his theory that they do pay off on the wood shots. The theory, of course, was applied to the dubs, duffers and average players, NOT the topnotch professionals.

The top pros all knock the ball far and usually straight, with their wood clubs. With them, Edmonds points out, it's the approach and putting that decides the issue, because they're so near parity on the long shots.

Not so the average or high-handicap player. Most of his troubles spring from his inability to get out to approaching distance on his tee shots, or from sliced loopers that leave him in heavy rough or stymied behind a tree.

Surprisingly, this belief is general—we mean the belief they don't pay off on the drive—The duffer consoles himself with the thought that a good approach and a lucky putt will get him out of the soup. Occasionally they do, but nine times out of ten he already has cost himself at least a stroke, and if he landed in trouble from the tee, probably three or four.

Edmonds and his partner who considered themselves average golfers conducted their experiment to prove that the average golfer approaching from the pro's tee shots could cut his score from 6 to 10 strokes. They proved it convincingly on two occasions in a test that created widespread interest among St. Paul golfers.

The sports writers arranged a foursome that included two of the finest pros in the Midwest. After the tee shots, the pros played the sports writers' approaches and the sports writers' approaches.

where the pro drives landed. Take it from Edmonds, he never realized the delight of approaching a 450-yard hole with something less than a full wood shot. They never knew the job could be so easy. And they sliced those 10 strokes from their scores. The pros had a delightful time, too, playing approach shots from nightmarish spots they never knew existed on the course.

A similar theory has existed to bowling since the origin of the game. It goes something like this: "Get your spares, the strikes will take care of themselves." Although it is as phony as the smile in a toothpaste ad, it is a perennial source of consolation to the average bowler who can't get his strikes in clusters. The cold hard facts are irrefutable. You can't spare bowl your way to a 190 average, nor can you shoot par golf with 100-150 yard tee shots.

Chiding us for daring to compare Frankie Bambara with L. Dugan of the original Columbus, T. Davitt, the Magnificent Punter, suggests a novel scheme to circumvent baseball raids at the stadium. "If Bambara can cover as much ground as you claim reasoned the sage with the expanding girth," the Recs should play him behind home plate. He'd come up with the stray baseballs....

While it is true that in a baseball uniform Tommy's midriff resembles the Roaring Forties, we cannot overlook the implications in Lou Bruhn's crack that he thought the Marines were putting on a double feature when he saw Davitt ballooning around the first base coaching box Saturday night.

And to think they once played baseball together....John Whalen Sr., of Poughkeepsie finished in fifth place in a field of 255 golfers in the annual hole-in-one tournament sponsored by the World-Telegram at the Leeward Golf Club in Scarsdale Tuesday.... Whalen dropped his shot on the 155-yard hole, three feet, four inches from the pin.... We have a hunch that if John Van Gonic accepts a challenge to meet Carl Husta in a 36-hole match, Carl will be putting up his own dough.

He plays the game strictly according to Hoyle. Editz Bruhn suggests a match between the top ranking four players from Wilkewick and Twaalfskill.... A Husta-Halen match would be a game as a spectator sport in town.... Many people who don't know a hook from a slice would be there.... How about it?

brief shower would probably put it into better playing condition." Providing the weather man does offer his blessings to the local club for tonight it will be the first appearance of the famous Puerto Rican Stars at the park this year.

Earlier in the season the Ricans were scheduled to appear here but at that time too, the weatherman opened up with one of usual downpours to force a postponement.

Manager Joe Hoffman is anxious to have tonight's game played so that his club won't get stale after a long layoff. The Recs haven't played since last Saturday when they trounced Arma, 7 to 1. "We all hope tonight's tilt will be played," the local pilot said this morning when he stepped out of his home and gave a quick look at the high heavens.

Billy Ostrom, the young southpaw from Poughkeepsie, has been selected to start tonight's scheduled ball game and he'll be opposed by either Manuel Diaz or Santaella. Both Rican flingers are rated the best on the visiting team today. Fourth seeded Gardner Mulloy of Miami will be pitted against Feliciano Acosta of Manila, P. I., and fifth seeded McNeill of Orange, N. J., will oppose seeded Robert Falkenberg of Hollywood, Calif.

The Recs will go into tonight's game at the stadium looking for their third straight conquest. In the last two outings the club has turned back the New York Firemen and the Arma club behind the impressive mound stints of Dick Fitzgerald.

WOODSTOCK ARTISTS' SECOND EXHIBITION

The second exhibition of the Woodstock Artists Association opened Saturday, August 3 and was well received. The exhibition will continue through August 19. A reception was held the opening day for the artists, their guests, members of the association and friends. Tea was served in the backyard.

Particular attention was paid to the exhibition of photography by Konrad Cramer in the two new wings of the gallery. His work, titled "Homage to Stieglitz," the photographs cover a period of experimental photography from 1940 to 1946. It is with a single exposure of different objects from three angles with three lenses that Mr. Cramer has achieved this most interesting work. Through the delicate arrangement of forms, light and shade, he has produced remarkable works.

The paintings were judged by Carlyle Burrows, art critic of the New York Herald Tribune, John F. Morse, editor of the Magazine of Art and Grace Pagano, director of the Encyclopedia Britannica Collection of Paintings.

The following artists were accepted: Adrian Siegel, Sigmund Menkes, Antoinette Schulte, Perry Dods, Florence Ballin Cramer, Marguerite Jordan, Anne Kopp, Stuart Edie, Helen Shotwell, R. Kargere, Wendell Jones, Tom Brook, Raisa Robbins, Conrad Marca Relli, Henry Mattson, Eugene Ludins, Jeannae Magafan, Carl Fortess, Rollin Crampton, S. Opposes Molotov

Vishinsky opposed a motion by U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes to refer the Albanian question to the general commission.

Byrnes, speaking after Vishinsky, said he was willing to withdraw his motion if the application of Egypt, Mexico and Cuba were considered along with the Albanian application in the plenary session. He said Egypt, Cuba and Mexico had asked to be included in the conference last year.

"Albania," declared A. V. Alexander of the British delegation, "was not even one of the Allies. Nor is it a member of the United Nations."

He said a very similar case could be made for Austria, "many of whose people did not cease to fight against Nazism and Fascism."

Poland's delegate, Wincenty Rzymowski, declared, on the other hand, that Albania was "one of the first victims of Fascist aggression," and that her right to a "consultative" seat at the conference was greater than that of Cuba, Egypt or Mexico because of her "proximity to Italy."

He said it would be a violation of the principles of international law to bind Albania to a treaty with Italy if Albania was not a party of the treaty.

Delegates hoped the argument on the Albanian question and other procedural matters would be completed today in order that the conference might get down to the business of drafting treaties.

Behind the scenes is known to be a drive by the Romanian government to break the power of such leaders as Constantine Bratianu and Juliu Maniu, regarded by Britain and the United States as Romanian patriots even though they oppose the Russian-backed present regime.

The Romanian government has indicated it is trying to link Bratianu and Maniu to three subversive "organizations" against which a drive was declared some time ago.

Republicans Build Campaign Against Axtell in Missouri

Unusual Efforts Planned to Put in Reeves for Congress; Truman Answers Brown

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—Republicans began building up steam today for a determined attempt to set back President Truman by beating Enos A. Axtell in the Missouri Fifth District congressional race.

Mr. Truman told his news conference yesterday he was making a categorical statement when he said that Axtell, whom he supported in a successful primary race last Tuesday against incumbent Rep. Roger C. Slaughter, would be elected.

Republicans generally are not conceding any such result. An officer of their national committee said unusual efforts will be made on behalf of the party's nominee, Albert L. Reeves Jr.

The Republican congressional campaign committee long has marked the Fifth Missouri District as a marginal area where a G.O.P. nominee would have a fair chance of winning.

The President engaged in some sparring yesterday with Rep. Clarence Brown (Ohio), who is directing the G.O.P.'s congressional campaign.

Brown earlier had attacked Mr. Truman's recent budget estimates as "misleading."

The President said that if it hadn't been for the G.I. terminal pay bill—an expenditure he didn't know about when he made his first estimates—the budget would have been balanced.

He noted that the House voted unanimously for the measure, adding that Brown had to accept the responsibility for the expenditure along with everybody else.

On another political front, the President said he doesn't know whether Senator James Mead intends to seek the Democratic nomination for governor of New York.
